Buffalo Open To Water Sport

About two-thirds of Buffalo Lake, including the ski jump, dam area, Cottonwood Cove and upper spring bay area, were reopened to water contact sports Monday.

The remaining portion of the lake, which includes the lower spring bay, and upper east and west areas, will not be available for public use this season, Gordon Hansen, manager, has announced.

The lake was posted June 22 by Hansen after an estimated 250,000 fish died due to polluted waters.

Signs warning visitors in the area to participate in water contact sports "at your own risk" were removed Monday and a buoy line was strung across that portion of the lake to be closed to the public.

"Based on results of latest samples analized for coliform bacteria by the Texas State Department of Health", said Charles Northington, US Public Health Service director, in a telegram to Hansen, "we judge that Buffalo Lake between the dam and a boundary line from Catfish Point due west across the southern part of Spring Bay is now bacteriologically safe for water contact recreation.

VIPs Here For Parade

The queen and the president of the American Association of Sheriffs' Posses and Riding Clubs will be in Canyon this week end for the annual Randall County Round-up and Old Settlers Reunion.

They are Miss Carolyn Coker and Zip Taylor, both of Irving. They will ride in the parade Saturday afternoon.

On hand to greet them will be Clark Jarnagin of Canyon, vice president of the national organization.

Riding in the parade with Miss Coker will be Kathy Hufnagle, Canyon, District II queen.

Officers of the local Sheriff's Posse organization are Blaine Hufnagle, president; Jimmy Plain, vice president; R. B. Allen, secretary; and J. V. Moore, treasurer.

School Head Sought At Board Meet

Members of the Canyon Independent School Board were to have met Wednesday night to screen applicants for the position of superintendent. Results of the meeting were not available at press time.

Three area applicants were to have been interviewed by the board.

The trustees are attempting to find a replacement for Huelyn Laycock, who recently resigned to become head of the Panhandle Educational Services Organization in Amarillo.

League Slate To Be Named

A slate of officers for the Randall County Taxpayers League will be elected at a meeting of the organization tonight at 8:30 o'clock. The meeting will be held in the Randall County Junior Livestock Building.

The league, formed Aug. 2, 1966 to protest Canyon Independent School District tax evaluations, has three primary objectives, according to Mrs. W. E. Parker, organization secretary.

Those primary objectives, she said, are to aid the group's members in becoming more familiar with what transpires at city, county and school board meetings; to encourage possible candidates for local offices to become oriented with the workings of the governmental organizations; and to give more equal treatment to all taxpayers.

B. E. McCormick is current president of the league.

WHAT SOME BELIEVE to have been a small tornado destroyed Dobbs Corporation building at the western edge of Canyon Tuesday night. L. R. Dobbs, owner of the firm, said he left the building only seconds before it collapsed. The strong winds were accompanied by torrential rain.

Torrential Rains Hit Canyon Area

Tornadic winds accompanying heavy rain did spotted damage in Canyon Tuesday night.

Hardest hit was the Dobbs Corporation at the western edge of town. The building housing the firm was destroyed.

Debris from the building was scattered for a quarter of a mile across a field. The cab of a tractor parked in the field was ripped away.

Sheriff L. S. Johnston said the tractor belongs to Lonnie Byars.

Johnston was convinced that the damage was done by a small tornado. He said it struck about 7:45 o'clock.

L. R. Dobbs, owner of the firm, was in the building seconds before it collapsed.

Hail and heavy rain had been falling.

"It got real still a couple of times and I got out," Dobbs related. He said he jumped into his pickup truck and drove onto the driveway between the entrance to the firm and a highway access road.

"It was raining so hard I couldn't see how to drive away," he declared.

Dobbs Corporation manufactures tail water recovery pumps. Dobbs Wednesday morning was unable to estimate damage done to the contents of the building.

Equalization Meeting Set

The City Equalization Board will sit in session all day July 27 to hear complaints or information concerning tax valuations, according to Alan Ratliff, assessor-collector.

The board, composed of Dr. Dudley Moore, Jim Christopher and Dick Dawdy, will hold the day-long session in the City Hall, Ratliff said.

All owners of rendered property have been notified of any change in valuation, Ratliff added.

Total assessed valuation of real property on the present tax roll is $12,279,552, as compared to $11,233,815 for last year. Valuation set on personal property for 1967 is $3,688,947, compared with $3,207,780 in 1966.

Estimated receipts from taxes this year for Canyon will be $240,000. Valuation is $1.50 per $100 valuation.

CFD Seeks Fire Notice

Farmers in Randall County who plan to burn fields of wheat stubble have been asked to notify the Canyon Fire Department in advance, according to Capt. Joe Rice. This will prevent unnecessary runs by the CFD.

Some local residents, who have seen the fires, have notified the CFD of an emergency, Rice explained.

Each time the fire department answers a call outside the city limits, the county must pay $100.

Telephone number of the fire department is OL5-4741.

Students Register

A total of 1,740 students registered Monday and Tuesday at West Texas State University for the second term of the summer session.

About another 100 more students are expected to enroll by the Saturday noon deadline.

The 1,700-plus figure for the second semester compares with 1,586 last year for the same period.

A total of 2,786 students were registered for the first term this summer at WTSU.

Gas Company Issues Blunt Warning Here

Canyon city commission Monday night took no action on a request by Pioneer Natural Gas for a 11.5 percent rate increase.

C. I. "Stony" Wall, gas company president told commissioners his firm will appeal to the Texas Railroad Commission if the requested hike is not forthcoming.

"That's no threat--that's just the law and the way it is," Wall declared.

Wall explained that if the railroad commission found in favor of his company, the City of Canyon or any municipality losing in a hearing would pay costs from $25,000 to $40,000.

"If it goes to the commission, it goes to the commission", Wall continued.

"If we go to the trouble of a hearing, why not ask for all we're entitled to--I think you would do the same thing," Wall declared.

A recent railroad commission decision allows Pioneer Natural a 6.5 per cent rate of return.

Wall said his firm had never asked for the full amount due them. The firm's rate or return, he pointed out, was 2.35 per cent in 1966.

From the increase would come, Wall explained, additional Federal income taxes and other expenses.

"We have an obligation to our stockholders--several of whom are from Canyon--to keep it (Pioneer Natural Gas) in a sound financial condition. He said the firm had a gross annual deficiency of about $2 million at this time.

Two Canyon Scouts To World Jamboree

Two Canyon scouts have been selected to attend the World Jamboree of Boy Scouts at Farragut State Park in Idaho this year.

Pat Hickman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hickman, and Ronnie Hager, son of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Hager, will be among 7,000 scouts from 87 countries attending the encampment.

The two Canyon scouts will leave Monday. They will be a part of Troop 25, USA Scouts, which is composed primarily of boys from Texas and New Mexico. They will visit Raton, New Mexico, Colorado Springs, Colorado, Cheyenne and Rock Spring, Wyoming, Salt Lake City, Utah, Yellowstone National Park, Livingston and Missouli, Montana, Athol, Idaho and arrive at the Jamboree site in late July.

The jamboree encampment will be August 1-9 with the theme being "For Friendship". This will be the first time for the world jamboree of scouting to be held in the United States.

Annex Planning Pact Is Signed

A contract was signed Friday by Randall County Commissioners that gives the go-ahead to an Amarillo architectural firm to draw plans for a new courthouse annex.

Shiver and Megert was given the contract for architectural plans on the annex to be located north of the present structure.

Cost of the two-story building is expected to be about $300,000.

Clayton Shiver, speaking for the firm, said rough sketches of what is needed in the annex should be ready in about two weeks, after he discusses office space requirements with county employees.

Also at that time, Shiver said he could give the commission some cost estimates.

In order to pay the firm, commissioners voted to issue five $5,000 time warrants.

Foundation For Arbors

Concrete foundations for two picnic arbors at the Canyon City Park have been poured.

The arbors, recently approved by the Canyon City Commission, will be located on the east side of the park.

Included in the rest areas will be a concrete picnic table. The arbor roof will be covered with corrugated asbestos.

Cost of the two arbors, similar to those at a roadside park south of the city, will be about $2,000.

The arbors will be finished later this summer.

Sewage Treatment Rated Good

Tests show treatment of Canyon sewage is excellent.

Recent tests taken by the Amarillo Bi-City-County Health Department near Canyon's sewage treatment plant show a higher coliform bacteria count above than below where the refuse liquids enter Palo Duro Creek.

Coliform bacteria, an organism that has been credited with killing more than 250,000 fish and polluting the waters of Buffalo Lake, is counted at the Canyon treatment plant periodically by the Amarillo group and also by the Texas Health Department, said City Manager Gary Gwyn.

Recent test, Gwyn said, show a count of 4,900 coliform bac-

ROBERT HORTON left hands off a saddle bag to Jimmy Plain in practice for the Pony Express race to be held at 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening in the Randall County Sheriff's Posse arena at the eastern outskirts of Canyon. Horton and Plain both are members of the RCSP. The local club won a Pony Express Race at Tulia last week end.

Old Settler Reunion Set Friday, Saturday

The annual Randall County Round-up and Old Settlers Reunion will be held Friday and Saturday. It will commemorate Randall County's 78th anniversary.

Pioneers will meet at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum at 10 o'clock Friday morning to open activities for the week end affair.

Boone McClure, museum curator, will address the group and a noon luncheon will be served in the Blue Room of the West Cafeteria at West Texas State University. The Old Settler's Round-Up will be sponsored by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce. The meeting will adjourn at 2 p.m.

Highlighting the two-day Round-Up will be the annual parade at 4:30 p.m. Saturday, the Jaycee barbecue Saturday evening, and the second annual World Championship Pony Express Race at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the Randall County Sheriff's Posse arena.

The parade, which will follow the city's designated route from the 1400 to the 2400 block on Fourth Avenue, will feature a marching band of approximately 350 student bandsmen, who are attending band camp at West Texas State University this week.

Leading the parade will be Sheriff L. S. "Slim" Johnston, parade marshall, on horseback with a motor escort from the Canyon Police Department. Colors will be carried by a group of Canyon Boy Scouts.

Riding clubs expected to participate in the parade are Rolling Hills and Range Riders of Amarillo, San Angelo Riding Club, Lockney Riding Club, Hart

FROM THE

CANYON RIM

By Troy Martin

Our family has just returned from a vacation swing through New Mexico, Colorado and Wyoming. We visited a few days in Yellowstone National Park.

The kids counted 15 bear, two of them cubs, one deer and three moose.

I was fascinated with the bears. I think most of the tourists were too. The beggars run along park highways and mooch food off tourists.

It can be extremely dangerous to feed the bears. Park rangers stress that, although the bears express no alarm about being near humans, they still basically are wild creatures.

One ranger told me that bears sometimes become angry when a tourist who has been feeding them runs out of food. Several people have been mauled in recent years, he said.

Besides that, it is not good for the bears. They become dependent upon handouts and fail to shift for themselves, the ranger declared.

Bears are a lot like people in this respect. Most of us are inclined to become shiftless, just like the bears, if we can get something without working for it.

Biggest thrill for the kids was two fat bear cubs high in a pine tree.

Cut throat trout were spawning and fishing in the rivers and creeks of Yellowstone was forbidden while we were there. Rangers said fish abound and one fisherman told me he caught the limit for his entire family in a few minutes last year.

I had always thought that Yellowstone was a natural habitat for wild game and was surprised to learn that this is not so.

Park rangers said settlers in pioneer days pushed game off the lower Plains. Big game eventually retreated to the wilds of Yellowstone.

The only real native of Yellowstone is the big horn sheep, a ranger told me. He said Indians and game alike shunned the area in the old days.

Winters are bitter cold in Yellowstone.

One group of renegade Indians, outcast by their tribe, were known in the early days as sheep eaters. Their principal diet was the flesh of the big horn sheep. At that time there was no other game to be had.

The geysers are something to see. Old Faithful spouts at regular intervals, about an hour apart. The regularity is credited to some system of natural plumbing below the surface of the earth but scientists haven't quite figured it out.

Scientists do know that the depths of the thermal area is heated by subterranean lava and super heated water and steam spout to the surface.

Yellowstone boasts the biggest thermal area in the world.

The day we left the park, two students were badly burned as one of them tried to swim in a thermal pool and the other went to his aid.

Yellowstone National Park is vast and wild. An eight year old boy became lost in the park a year ago. Searchers scoured for weeks the area from which he disappeared. He has never been found.

Only last week the remains of a young woman who became lost in 1961 were found by a group of Boy Scouts.

Finding a camping spot is no picnic. We were lucky throughout our stay in the park. We always had good camping places. Surprisingly, there appears to be no problem in the park with thieves.

A towel left on a vacant table was sufficient to reserve the camping place until a tent could be pitched. We left our belongings unguarded while we went off on sightseeing jaunts. We never lost anything.

One of the finest things about camping is finally getting to some hot water for a shower and shave. We stopped off at Casper, Wyoming on the return trip, parked our camping equipment and took a room in a modern motel.

We had been three days without hot water and it was luxurious.

At Casper one of the most amusing incidents of the trip took place. We approached a traffic light in the downtown area. Our lane of the intersection was blocked by a parked stationwagon which apparently had been abandoned.

Traffic backed up for a block or more. We simply couldn't get around or through.

After what must have been ten minutes but seemed like an hour, a young lady walked nonchalantly from a nearby store and climbed into the double parked vehicle.

As she pulled away we could see a sticker on the stationwagon rear bumper. "Drive Legally" was the admonition inscribed on the sticker.

Viet Airmen Get Triangle

Special guests at a Sunday performance of "TEXAS" were seven soldiers from Vietnam.

The airmen, who are participating in a technical assistance program at Amarillo Air Force Base, received triangles from Alan Demus of Canyon, who plays an Indian drum in the outdoor drama. Triangles are traditionally given to guests who travel the greatest distance to see the production.

A spokesman for the Vietnamese soldiers thanked the audience for America's help to his country in the Vietnam conflict.

The airmen were then given a standing ovation.

Assisting in the triangle awards ceremony were Shawn and Brent Stevens, the two youngest members of the "TEXAS" cast.

Also attending the musical drama Sunday were guests from Canada, Alaska, Denmark, Morocco, Jordan, the Dominican Republic and Libya.

Mrs. Clara Thompson and Sarah Thompson of Tucson, Arizona are visiting this week in the Paul Lindsey home.

Dear Troy,

Every July I can count on a reminder from you that it's time to renew for another year.

And I'm glad to get the reminder, just as I am glad to get the paper every Monday.

From time to time I see someone from the Panhandle who tells me how things are going. I read the roundup reports of weather and all, and I get a general idea of how things are. But when I can read that Paul Lindsey brought in the first load of wheat and it was making only 6 bushels to the acre, I know for sure that the Panhandle is really dry.

Since I spent four years in Canyon when rain was a seldom-seen affair, I know pretty well what the farmers in Randall County are going through. And I know equally well what a short wheat crop does to the economy of Canyon.

When I can read these things in the Canyon News, I feel close to home and the problem. And that's why it was painful to me to read your comments on the wheat situation last week.

If the government is to get the blame for the low market price now, it would only be right for the government to get the credit for the higher price a year ago. But it is not right for the government to get either the credit or the blame, because for over a year the wheat market has been more free of government influence than at any time in the last 30 years. During the last six months, even, the government has been buying wheat on the open market to fill commitments for donations to disaster-stricken people.

The only sales in recent months from government-owned stocks have been limited to quantities of hard red winter wheat shipped from the Southern Great Plains to the Pacific Northwest to fill cash orders from Japan at times when none was available from farmers or other private sources.

I feel quite sympathetic toward Randall County farmers who have seen their year's work come to as little as 4 or 5 bushels an acre. But I am glad they have one thing going for them that they didn't have 10 years ago when I was in Canyon.

The wheat program they are using now has an insurance-type feature, so that everything is not lost. This feature is the domestic marketing certificate that makes up the difference between the world price of wheat and at least 100 percent of parity for the portion of a farmer's crop that normally goes into domestic food use, about 520 million bushels this year.

You may not know how this works, but it is an important factor for Canyon and Randall County this year. The total volume of certificates for the county hasn't been computed yet, I understand, but last year it amounted to $1,374,201. It will be higher this year, because each certificate is worth 4 cents more and slightly more certificates will be issued.

It works this way: A farmer who voluntarily decides to cooperate in the program earns marketing certificates on the domestic food portion of his normal production. This year this amounts to 35 percent of his normal production, and each certificate is worth $1.36.

As a for-instance in Randall County, the average normal yield for dryland wheat is about 15 bushels. For each acre of his allotment, a farmer with that yield earns 5 1/4 certificates. This means he earns $7.14 per acre of allotment whether or not he is able to harvest any grain. That isn't much, and it won't begin to pay his production costs, but it is more than the "nothing" he would earn without this program.

You might not think this is fair to the farmer somewhere else who does make a good crop and actually supplies wheat to the domestic food market--but this is a big nation and bad weather is not confined to the Panhandle of Texas. This year the insurance feature helped there. Next year it could make the difference for a farmer in the Pacific Northwest or in Pennsylvania. That is why Congress and the Department of Agriculture--on the advice of wheat farmers--designed the program this way.

This program, and its domestic certificates, is what replaces the "something he wouldn't like" that you mentioned. The commercial wheat farmers in Randall County apparently like this program because up to 95 percent of the allotment is voluntarily entered in the program this year.

The wheat farmers of the nation, in 1963, voted that they did not want a mandatory program with a high level of support for domestic wheat and a low level for export wheat. After the referendum, however, wheat farmers and their organizations went to Congress saying that what they really voted against was the mandatory part, that they really did want a two-price program, but on a voluntary basis.

And that's what Congress, the Department of Agriculture, and farmers worked out. It has been refined through more legislation, but it is the program that has done away with the surplus--and that's why I could say the government has little influence on market prices.

The market is being influenced mainly by the largest worldwide wheat crop on record harvested this past year--over 10 billion bushels. And the market also seems to be reacting like a pendulum. A year ago, it appeared from crop reports that Europe, Australia and Russia were all suffering from bad weather and there would be a worldwide shortage of wheat.

The market took off then, with speculation driving futures very close to $2 a bushel. This was the first time in the memories of many farmers that the highest prices of the year came at harvest time. In the fall, it turned out that Russia was going to harvest a good crop. Rains came in Australia and Europe. The market began to drop then.

Last winter, if you followed the market, you could have seen it drop 10 cents a bushel when a cloud formed over Kansas, then go right back up the next day because the cloud didn't bring any moisture. It went up 2 cents one day this week because rain was keeping combines out of the fields in Kansas. This is the way a free market operates--up and down with speculation and guesses about what the weather might do or what the production might be.

The $1.26 support you mention is a tool that farmers can use to wait out an adverse market. The $1.26 is the amount per bushel that Randall County farmers can borrow from the Commodity Credit Corporation. They can take out the loan and watch the market. If it becomes favorable, they can pay off the loan, interest and carrying charges, and sell on the market. Or if the market never does get better, they can deliver the wheat to the Commodity Credit Corporation and be assured of at least $1.26 a bushel. We in the Department of Agriculture hope that everyone redeems their loan--because we want the price to go up.

I believe I can assure you, Troy, that if USDA could raise the price at will--as you said it could--the price would be much, much higher than it is. After all--would you expect any Administration to take on itself the onus of low farm prices if there was some way out of it? That's not the way politics operates.

So, here's 6 bucks for another year. Keep 'er coming.

Regards,
Bill Cherry

Gas . . . .

meeting was M. D. LaGrone, vice president of H. Zinder & Associates of Amarillo, a firm which recently prepared a report on earnings of Pioneer Natural.

"This request for an increase in the General Service Rate," states an application for adjustment made by Wall, "is primarily attributable to the increase cost which has been experienced in labor, materials, general taxes, and other operating costs."

The last rate hike was effective Jan. 28, 1961, and produced a 10 per cent increase in gross revenue, Wall said.

Present average annual domestic amount paid Pioneer Natural is $74.64. At the requested rate the figure would be increased $8.61. or 72 cents monthly, a company spokesman said.

"Operating and maintenance expenses and general taxes per customer," the report continues, "have increased in the last five years from $34.28 per customer in 1961 to $40.15 per customer in 1966--an increase of $5.87 per customer, or 17.1%."

The request for an increase such as the one requested in Canyon is also being asked of all the 55 towns in the West Texas Distribution System of Pioneer Natural Gas.

Wall explained that his firm would need to study the useage of gas for 1967-1969 to determine if the requested increase was sufficient to meet present operational costs.

The company, he said, requests that the hike be approved by Aug. 15.

After noting that gas rates were a "sore spot" with Canyon residents, Mayor Paul Lindsey suggested that no action on the request be made until all the city commissioners were present. Absent from the Monday meeting was Mayor pro-tem H. R. Fulton, Jr., and Commissioner George Ritter.

The council must conduct a public hearing before a decision on the requested adjustment can be made.

The commission approved the 1967 audit and also a payment of $2,200 to Peat, Marwick and Mitchell of Amarillo who prepared the audit.

Although replacements for three seats on the Planning Commission were discussed, no action was taken.

Next meeting of the Planning Commission is Aug. 2.

Guest Speaker At Church Here

Rev. Jimmy Akin, field representative for the Presbyterian Synod of Texas, will be guest speaker at Sunday morning services of the First Presbyterian Church of Canyon.

Services Sunday evening will be conducted by Rev. Baldwin J. Stribling of Clarendon. A congregational meeting will conclude the service.

Rains . . . .

the building, estimated damage at "at least $10,000 and possibly more."

Andrews, who operates C&M Surplus, was at his Amarillo store when he was notified by Sheriff Johnston that his building in Canyon had been damaged.

Andrews said he measured 4.4 inches of rain in a guage at his home across the highway from Dobbs Corporation. "It fell in less than an hour," he declared.

Even though the cement block building was almost flattened by the wind, a frame building to the rear of it and another building some 100 feet east of it suffered no apparent damage.

Sheriff Johnston said water was knee deep at the gate of the Dobbs Corporation when he arrived. Investigation of damage was delayed while officers waited for an electrician to disconnect power lines which had been blown across a mesh wire fence electrifying it.

The wind blew in a westerly direction. A tornado usually travels from southwest to northeast.

About a half mile east of Dobbs Corporation a small section was neatly clipped from the fence of Canyon Drive-In Theater.

There was no apparent damage to buildings between the theater and Dobbs Corporation.

Also damaged Tuesday night were two barns at the West Texas State University dairy, north of the WTSU campus.

Roofs from a hay barn and a cattle research building were lifted by wind and carried about 75 yards, according to Kenneth Wilson, associate professor of agriculture.

The tin-topped hay barn, which was also damaged heavily by winds some years ago, contained about 100 tons of hay. Wilson said he could notice no damage to the hay in the 80 by 34 foot building.

Wilson said tin from the roof of the cattle research building was scattered for about a half mile. That building is 16 by 70 feet.

Rain at the dairy measured more than 3.25 inches, Wilson said.

A large weed sprayer and an anhydrous ammonia applicator were overturned at the Taylor Evans Store west of the city limits. No other damage was reported there.

Rainfall measuring 3.80 inches was reported east of the city at the Charles R. Nester residence. Dr. Nester said there was a small amount of hail but there seems to have been no damage.

A gauge at the Randall County Sheriffs office showed 1.90 inches of moisture and Crosby Hammons, 402 Taylor Lane, reported 3.10 inches of rain.

Sheriff Johnston said water was over the highway 6 to 8 inches deep from Canyon about half way to Umbarger.

About one mile of road on the Palo Duro highway was closed for 30 minutes by the Highway Department Tuesday evening after waters measuring six inches washed over the road.

Texas Highway Patrolmen requested the road be closed near a small bridge east of the city limits because of the water.

A starlight concert scheduled Tuesday night in Palo Duro Canyon was cancelled due to the rains, said Eddie Melin of Amarillo, manager of the Amarillo Symphony Orchestra.

Melin said even though the showers were light in the canyon, there was no attempt to place the expensive orchestra instruments on the stage.

Rain checks, he said, will be good for the other two concerts scheduled Tuesday, Aug. 1 or for a make-up performance Aug. 8 at 8:30 p.m.

The rain checks must be exchanged for regular tickets, Melin added.

Other rain reports around the county include, Forrest Gruner, north of the city, .70 of an inch; Tom Gooch, Jowell Community, two inches; Buffalo Lake Refuge, .94 of an inch; and Clarence Kern at Umbarger, 1.10 inches.

The weather station at West Texas State University reported 2.94 inches although obviously rainfall was heavier in other sections of Canyon.

Sewage . . .

teria per 100' milliliters of water about one and one-half miles above the sewer outlet. A milliliter is a volume of water.

"This 4,900 count is just below a hog farm and it is the highest test recorded," Gwyn declared.

Texts about one-half mile below where the sewage liquid flows into the creek, a lower count of 330 coliform bacteria was recorded.

There are several standards by which water is qualified, but the US Public Health Department sets a 1,000 count of coliform bacteria per 100 milliliters of water to indicate contamination.

"Tests taken in the Palisades and at Lake Stockton," Gwyn stated, "show that the creek is being cleared and cleaned as it goes.

Gwyn also added that the Texas Health Department has been pleased with Canyon's sewer treatment plant.

"They don't even test our water quarterly anymore," Gwyn explained. "They have always praised our treatment plant's operations and never have they found any serious infractions of the health standards."

After the sewer water from Canyon is treated, it first flows into a large, shallow pond. There are bass, perch and catfish living in the waters.

William Wieser, Water and Sewer Department superintendent, remarked he had always seen more dead fish above the treatment plant shores than below them.

"Our problem is not in the quality of the water," Gwyn said, "it's in how much sewage water we will be able to handle effectively from our one treatment plant."

The problem of insufficient land area for the sewage water has been a recent topic of the Canyon City Commission.

bers of Boy Scout Troop 31, which is supervised by Meredith Warren, scoutmaster. Warren says that the jamboree "helps keep the scout movement unified, serves as an exchange point for ideas, and gives the boys a chance to plan ways to extend scouting and strengthen the national association."

The jamboree is a "living example of scouting's fellowship and brotherhood that transcends national boundaries," said Warren.

Both Pat and Ronnie will be sophomores at Canyon High School this fall.

Pat has been a scout since 1960 when he joined at the Cub Scout level. He received the bobcat, wolf, bear and lion badges and in 1963 was advanced to Webelo rank. He joined Troop 31 in February 1963 and received tenderfoot, second class and first class awards that year.

Fashions Planned By Club

Plans for the third annual Canyon Study Club-sponsored Back To School Fashions show are being made, according to Mrs. Charles Brasher, chairman of the program.

The fashion show, scheduled Aug. 4 at 7:30 p.m. in the Canyon High School Cafeteria, will feature 40 models from kindergarten to high school age.

Admission will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for children and tickets are available from any study club member.

Fashions will be provided by Colbert's Wolflin Village store in Amarillo.

Funds from the project will be used for the study club's annual scholarship program and for Girl Scout and Randall County Library Board contributions, Mrs. Brasher said.

The organization also sponsors a holiday bake sale each December.

Jaycee-Ettes Hold Session

A summer business meeting for the Canyon Jaycee-Ettes was held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Delbert Turk.

President, Mrs. Weyman Brown, presided as the meeting was opened with a recitation of the Jaycee-Ette creed, reading and approval of the secretary's minutes, and a balance report from the treasurer.

A report was given by Mrs. Don Fatout on the Canyon Clean-Up Campaign, which was recently completed.

Several Jaycee-Ettes reported on clinics at the summer Area I convention in Plainview. Mrs. Weyman Brown discussed the membership clinic and Mrs. Guy Hamblen and Mrs. Don Fatout reported on the state organizational clinic.

Members voted to make several changes in the club's constitution. Several letters were read by the president including an appreciation vote from Terry Clark who was chairman of the Jaycee Fireworks Stand, with which the Jaycee-Ettes assisted.

Members voted to paint curbs that have been ordered and to discontinue the practice of canvasing the city on a weekly basis.

Present for the meeting were Mesdames Don Fatout, Guy Hamblen, Jim Scott, Weyman Brown, Carl Miller, Delbert Turk and a guest, Johnni Gordon.

Gardeners Have Party

A backyard picnic for members of the Canyon Garden Club was held last Thursday evening at the A. K. Goodman home.

Hines, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Frank, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Downing, Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Goodman, Dan Parker, Mrs. W. E. Bill has been employed for the summer at B. C. Taylor service as a part of a personality improvement project in connection with the summer credit plan for home economics students at Canyon High School.

Mrs. Selby Visits Here

Mary N. Selby of Rialto, California, has been visiting in Canyon since early June with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Morris.

Mrs. Selby traveled first to Fort Stewart, Georgia to visit with her brother, Charles Morris.

While in Canyon, Mrs. Selby took her father to Childress to attend a family reunion for the Morris family which was hostessed by Christine Simmons. Approximately 136 relatives were registered for the reunion. Others attending from Canyon were Mr. and Mrs. Burney Slack and Nettie Vick.

Enroute to California, Mrs. Selby took her father to visit with his brother, Ernest Morris, at Almagordo, New Mexico.

Wirts Host Lodge Social

An ice cream social for Canyon City Lodge No. 730 was held Saturday evening at the Wayne Wirt home with approximately 40 attending.

The social was for members of the lodge and their families.

Summer Available

Summer experiences in the home economics program at Canyon High School involve boys as well as girls, according to Mrs. Clara Long, instructor.

"The experience is designed to carry the homemaking class instructions further into depth so that students may gain additional learning about the job of homemaking in several areas," said Mrs. Long.

Areas include clothing, from buying and selection to care of clothes; child care; interior decoration; improvement of self, from personality to appearance; food, from buying and selection to preservation; and management of time, energy and money.

Mrs. Long explained that to "receive the 1/2 credit on summer experiences the student must complete his record keeping as well as to show the home economics instructor his completed work. The experience must also cover from 1-3 areas."

"Students chose their own area, set their own goals, and keep records of daily progress," said Mrs. Long.

"We have 36 boys and girls working on the summer credit plan this year," said Mrs. Long.

"A majority of the girls chose the field of clothing as they want to learn quicker sewing methods, wiser shopping habits, better clothes care and improvement of storage areas for clothing," explained Mrs. Long.

"We have ten girls working on child care as their summer project," said Mrs. Long. "They set goals to help them understand small children and their behavior."

"A popular area of the program is interior decoration as many of the students like to plan and remodel their own rooms at minimum expense. They have shown more interest in this field for the fall," said Mrs. Long explaining that 42 students have signed for the course in the fall of 1967-68 as compared with 19 who were enrolled last year.

"Areas in foods are excellent for the teenagers," said Mrs. Long. "Students select and plan meals, buy the food, and prepare it for the family. Some students even take food preservation and freezing as their study fields."

"We have about ten students working in the field of management. They learn that they must plan and budget their time, energy and money to get everything done that they would like," said Mrs. Long.

"Personal improvement is becoming a popular area for youth as they realize the success they want comes easier to those who understand people. This is a benefit to their social life which carries into the classroom and their summer jobs" Mrs. Long explained.

Mrs. Long said that this was the first year for boys to be enrolled in the homemaking program of the school and she feels that it shows the strength of character and interest in this area of living for young men in a field that had formerly been reserved for girls. "Boys will be partners in these areas of living and will profit from their experiences in the classroom" she said.

In addition to the home economics teacher, the summer experience is also supervised by the mother.

"Students spend about 130 hours or more on their projects," said Mrs. Long explaining that any student who has been enrolled in home economics for the preceeding semester is eligible to participate in the program which offers an additional 1/2 credit of high school work.

Home economics courses to be offered at the high school this fall will include Homemaking II-32, Homemaking III-10, Home and Family Life-26, and Interior Design-42, according to Mrs. Long.

MARK RAILLARD has spent the summer redecorating his bedroom in a home economics summer course. Mark is shown here inspecting an unusual picture of an African native which he selected to give his room atmosphere. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Raillard of Canyon.

BY LORENA MILLER

Mrs. Bill West of 2507 Twelfth Avenue shares a group of favorite family recipes with our readers this week including Cherry-Pecan Rolls, Hamburger Casserole, Norwegian Date Filled Cookies, Chocolate Cake, and Pineapple-Coconut Pie.

Mrs. West, the former Loudene Taylor, was raised in Sweetwater, Oklahoma. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Silas Taylor, now live in Sayre, Oklahoma, and a sister, Jo Brown, lives in Noble, Oklahoma.

ALAIN MORIN of Paris, France inspects Canyon's world famed "Tall Texan" with Rose Ellen Parker. Morin was visiting in the city several days last week on an extensive tour of the United States, Canada and Central America.

Frenchman Visits Friends In Canyon

BY LORENA MILLER

Alain Morin of Paris, France was in Canyon last week to visit with his friend and classmate, Rose Ellen Parker, who returned recently from her second year of studies in France.

Morin, a native of Paris, graduated recently from the College of Social Science and Economy branch of the University of Paris.

He arrived in the United States on June 29 and plans to visit throughout the states, Central America and Canada before returning to France in October.

Morin said that he "would like to find a job or training in the United States where he could spend a year here." When he returns to France in October he will join the French Army with a 16-month tour of duty. He said that a new government ruling in November will decrease the Army's tour time to about 12 months.

While in the United States, Morin will visit with relatives who live in San Francisco, California, and also expects to visit other friends that he has met while studying at the Paris university.

Morin and Rose Ellen, who is the daughter of Mrs. W. E. Parker of Canyon, met while both were involved in theatre productions at the University of Paris last year.

"The land is all the same here," declared Morin explaining that in France the landscape and countryside change every few miles. "But here it stretches on forever and is so flat."

"Tornadoes are a most unusual happening in France," said Morin. He recalled that the first tornado he had known of in many years struck in northern France shortly before his departure.

"He has been watching the clouds expecting to see one here in Texas, though," laughed Rose Ellen.

During Morin's visit in Canyon, he toured Palo Duro Canyon and exclaimed that he had "never seen anything like it anywhere." He said that he planned to visit the Grand Canyon in Arizona on his way to California.

He also was planning to view a production of "TEXAS" while visiting here and completed his visit with a look at the famed "Big Texan", on the Hereford highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Garvin Long and Larry were week end guests of his daughter, Mrs. Carl Miller, and family.

Two Students On Honor Roll

Miss Gail McKinney and David Pittard of Canyon have been named to the Dean's Honor Roll for the spring semester at Abilene Christian College.

The honor is given students taking a minimum of 12 semester hours with at least a 3.5 grade point average out of a possible 4.0.

Both Miss McKinney and Pittard are 1965 graduates of Canyon High School.

Miss McKinney is an elementary education major at ACC. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. T. F. McKinney.

Pittard is a sophomore English major and has been on the honor roll listing two previous times. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Pittard of Canyon. He was a sophomore representative for the Interpreter's Council at ACC, president of the Pickwickian Literary Club, a member of the Knights social club, and a varsity tennis player.

Palo Duro Canyon Site Of Coronado's Thanksgiving

(Editor's Note: This story was written by Mrs. Grace Warwick who currently is preparing a history of Randall County.)

And the Feast of the First Thanksgiving in 1541.

Franscisco de Coronado, an attractive, optimistic man of 30 years, just married to Dona Beatriz, wealthies heiress of Mexico was regarded as among the most promising of the daring young Spaniards in the New World. Coronado was one of the foremost explorers of that exceptional era.

In 1540 he left Mexico City with a colony of helmet crested Horsemen, 1,000 horses, 5,000 sheep, 500 cattle and more than 1,500 people, on an expedition into the unknown America, traveling through New Mexico, Arizonia, up the Arkansas River to historic Quiviria. Then, misled by the Indian dubbed "Turk", Coronado with his entire colony marched from Pueblo Land into the buffalo covered plains of Western Texas, down the Canadian River, skirted the escarpment miscalled the Staked Plains, then entered Tule Canyon, and later Palo Duro Canyon, the "Great Barranca", May 29, 1541.

Coronado and his colony camped in Palo Duro Canyon for fourteen days while they rested and hunted buffalo, killing 500 bulls and making jerked meat to carry on their trip. A soldier killed a buffalo one day, stampeding the herd, they ran until they came to a ravine, where the first fell into the ravine until the ravine was filled and the others passed over on the dead bodies. Three soldiers and their horses fell into the ravine and were lost sight of completely. An Astonishing thing about this herd was they were all bulls. There are other records of all bull herds. During a certain season it was the habit for the cows to stay with the calves and the bulls wandered off by themselves.

During Coronados stay in Palo Duro, where he found grass and water for his stock and food for his colony in abundance, Pedro Fray de Padilla conducted a "Feast of Thanksgiving", which was the first Thanksgiving conducted in America, 79 years before the coming of the Pilgrims.

A Historical marker has been placed on Highway 217 which leads to Palo Duro Park, by the Texas Society Daughters of the American Colonies. This marker reads:

79 YEARS BEFORE THE PILGRIMS

INSTRUCTIONAL MEDIA

(Editor's Note: This article is one of a series on Canyon Schools. It is written by a member of the faculty.)

The effectiveness of the textbook dominated classrooms has been questioned by leading educators in recent years and found inadequate, in many cases, to accomplish the intellectual goals desired for the children of today's world. Research has proven that students learn faster and more effectively with the aid of audiovisual materials. The written word has not lost its significance or power, rather, its strength has been heightened and clarified by new supplementary materials of communication. Most of the newer instructional media increases the teacher's effectiveness in the classroom by helping stimulate students.

Anything from a book, a simple model, or picture to a complex machine can be considered as instructional media. For years dedicated teachers have searched for ways and means to guarantee their students a sure method for learning facts and skills necessary for them to live successfully in their world. Today's school market has been flooded with equipment and materials each claiming to be just what is needed for the well balanced curriculum for modern schools.

Among the most popular instructional media on the market today are film, filmstrip, opaque and overhead projectors, reading machines, tape recorders, listening stations, charts, pictures, records, models, any number of things that can help stimulate, motivate, and challenge students to seek out, clarify, and apply knowledge. With the help of a variety of instructional media, the environment for teaching and learning can be made interesting, attractive, challenging and dynamic.

With the growth of mass education, it became more difficult to provide for individual instruction. The new technology can help make it possible for the learner to learn at his own rate, and to systematically develop skills, and thinking abilities essential to understanding.

The current trend toward individualizing segments of the learning program for children has helped to stimulate the production of a variety of instructional materials that are specific in nature, and that can be prescribed to meet individual needs. One approach to individualized instruction involves the use of the tape recorder, earphones, and student response sheets. Tapes serve to make more economical use of teacher time and provide instructional material which can be developed for varying levels of ability. Pre-recorded instructional tape lessons can be used for remedial purposes, to increase skill, for enrichment, follow-up activities, practice, reinforcement of known skills, and review.

The continuing recognition of individual difference, along with markedly increasing student population, has challenged the ingenuity of educator, psychologist and communication system engineer. To meet these problems, a vast array of media and specialized instructional materials has been born essentially to provide an efficient means for instruction and learning. Many educators are predicting that educational media services will be expanded, materials and equipment enriched, and teachers better prepared to use it each year.

In order for the schools in the Panhandle to have a varied supply of instructional materials, a materials center is being established in Amarillo. The function of an instructional materials center is to locate, gather, provide, and co-ordinate materials for learning, and the equipment required for use of these materials. Canyon schools will be an integral part of the materials center and hopes to improve classroom teaching by having a wide variety of instructional materials available for use.

Canyon Firemen At A&M School

Four firemen from Canyon and one from Umbarger are attending the 38th annual Texas Firemen's Training School at Texas A&M University.

Those Canyon Fire Department members at the school are Nathan Watson, Robert Rogers, Bob Glanton and Lloyd Childers and John Grabber from Umbarger.

While at the school the firemen will each receive 30 hours of training in various phases of firefighting methods and use of equipment, according CFD Capt. Joe Rice.

A&M's Engineering Extension Service is conducting the school with the cooperation of the Texas Education Agency. Sponsor of the school is the State Firemen's and Fire Marshal's Association.

Expenses for the local delegates will be paid by the City of Canyon.

The school ends Friday.

WTSU Season Tickets Here

Season tickets for West Texas State University football games have arrived, but none will be mailed unless they have been paid for in advance, according to WTSU Athletic Director Frank Kimbrough.

Seats being sold are $3.50 and $4 each, he said.

Those who wish to receive the season tickets by mail should include full payment to the WTSU Athletic Department, Box 4, Canyon.

The Buffaloes will open the 1967 season here Sept. 16 when they meet Montana State.

Time for all home games will be 7:30 p.m.

Junior Riding Club, Hale County Sheriff's Posse, Swisher County Sheriff's Posse, Memphis Trail Riders, Hereford Riding Club and the Randall County Sheriff's Posse. Participating riding clubs will be judged and parade trophies will be presented to outstanding clubs.

Dr. Dudley Moore, chairman of the parade, listed additional parade entries which will include the drill team from Amarillo Air Force Base, Khiva Temple motor escort groups from Amarillo and Lubbock, a miniature Santa Fe train, the Model A Club of Amarillo, decorated bicycles from a Kiwanis Club's contest, and a singing group from the summer production of "TEXAS" which plays at the Pioneer Amphitheatre in Palo Duro Canyon.

Activities Friday evening will include a horseshoe pitching contest on the southwest corner of the courthouse square from 7-9 p.m. under the sponsorship of the Canyon Rotary Club. The contest will include team and individual competition with entry fee of $1 per person and trophies will be awarded to the champion horseshoe pitchers and runnerups, according to O. W. "Bud" Parker, chairman.

Also included in Friday's entertainment will be a "young people's dance" on the southeast corner of the courthouse square at 8:30 p.m. Sponsored by the Canyon Kiwanis Club, music will be furnished by the "Chosen Few" and admission will be $1 per person.

Canyon Jaycee-Ettes will sponsor a bingo booth Friday night from 7-10 p.m. on the courthouse square. The booth will also be open Saturday afternoon and evening.

Events Saturday will open at 4 p.m. with the judging of the Jaycee Beard Contest on the courthouse square. Plaques will be awarded for the top three sets of whiskers. All unwhiskered gentlemen should be wearing Jaycee shaving permits, or else they will be taken on a jailhouse tour of the city, according to John Preston, chairman.

Shaving permits will be sold by all Jaycee members at 50 cents, according to Preston.

Jaycees will enforce the "Western Days" atmosphere of the roundup, according to Preston. All residents are urged to wear a minimum of three articles of western wear both days of the roundup. A Jaycee jail, judge and posse will tour the city to pick up violators, Preston said, explaining that "no one will be exempt".

Judging of the Kiwanis Club's contest for decorated bicycles will be held at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon on the vacant lot at Eleventh Street and Fourth Avenue. Prizes will be awarded for the best decorated bicycles and the most original decorations, according to Dr. Burwell Southern. The bike riders will then ride as a group in the annual parade which is slated to begin at 4:30 p.m. Saturday.

The annual Jaycee barbecue supper will be served at 5 p.m. Saturday on the southwest corner of the courthouse square. Tickets are selling at $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children. Serving lines will remain open until 7 p.m.

The second annual World Championship Pony Express tournament will be held at the Randall County Sheriff's Posse arena, east of Canyon, with about a dozen area riding clubs expected to participate. Sponsored by the RCSP, the event gets underway at 7:30 p.m. Admission will be $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children.

Expected to participate in the competition will be riding clubs from Tulia, Hereford, Plainview, San Angelo, Amarillo, Amherst, Littlefield, Fort Worth, Dallas, Arlington, Canyon and Carlsbad, New Mexico.

The Pony Express Race is run between two teams at one time, inside the arena. Each team is composed of eight riders who pass the saddlebags from one teammate to another and the last rider drops the bag into a 30 gallon drum in the center of the arena. The first team completing the course and depositing the bag in the drum is the winner of the race and each team will run against every other team.

World's Champion will be the team with the highest percentage of wins. In case of a tie, the team having beaten the other one will be declared the winner.

A handtooled "traveling saddlebag" will be presented to the overall winner. The saddlebag must be won three years in a row to become the personal property of the winning club. Tulia Riding Club won the saddlebags in last year's event.

In addition, trophies will be presented to first, second and third place winners.

A square dance, co-sponsored by the Canyon Capers Square Dance Club and the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, will be held Saturday night from 8:30 until midnight on the southeast corner of the square. The public is invited to view the activities at no charge.

Boy Scouts of Troop 108 will operate refreshment stands on the courthouse square both days of the celebration.

JAYCEE SHAVING PERMITS for the 78th Randall County Round-Up and Old Settlers Reunion went on sale Tuesday. Bill Adams, president of the First National Bank of Canyon, left, received the first permit from John Preston, chairman. All unwhiskered gentlemen should wear the permit, which sells for 50 cents, or they will be picked up by the Jaycee posse and given a "jailhouse" tour of the city during the two-day Round-Up. Jaycees will also prosecute and fine or imprison dudes who are caught without a minimum of three articles of western clothing, according to Preston.

Annex . . . .

lumbian Securities of Dallas, said the architects could be paid $5,000 each August for five years, plus five per cent interest on the money due.

Davis had earlier recommended the commision vote to issue the warrants, although the architects could be paid later in cash.

In addition, $15 per hour will be charged by the architects for transportation expenses except for those trips to and from Amarillo.

Shiver said the plans being prepared would project needs through the year 1990 for the courthouse. Plans for the annex will also allow for an additional two levels, he said.

Of about 6,700 feet of floor space on the first level of the present courthouse, some 4,400 feet is taken up by staircases, rest rooms, corridors and walls, he explained.

Shiver recommended that the county clerk and tax assessor-collector, district judge, attorney and clerk occupy offices on the first level of the annex. Also in the new structure could be included space for a courtroom, grand jury housing, jury facilities and a law library.

"This will give room for expansion and also for new offices," Shiver commented.

He said seven trees outside the present courthouse would need to be uprooted to make way for the annex.

Work on the structure may begin as early as fall, Shiver had previously said.

In other business, Art Murry, representing IBM's Votomatic, demonstrated a newly-developed electronic voting system.

Murry said new legislation allowed for paper ballots, machines or electronic voting systems to be used in Texas.

The machine, he explained, uses a punch card ballot that is inserted into the Votomatic.

A voting stylus is then used to make selections on the ballot, he said.

Cost of two different available machines is $185 and $225. Ballots cost $13.50 per 1,000 and may be counted on an IBM computer.

The IBM computer used for counting the votes would eliminate some clerical helpers now necessary where paper ballots are used.

No action was taken on a request from Woody Pond, adult probation officer, that his salary be raised.

Pond, who was hired earlier this year as a part-time employee said he now has 30 current cases.

His present salary is $275 per month.

Commissioners, voted to advertise for bids on a manual typewriter to be used in Pond's office.

Mrs. Sue Farris, district Home Demonstration Agent, told the commission she was attempting to find a replacement for Mrs. D. C. Gamble, who recently resigned as HD Agent here.

Buffalo . . .

over the water shed, portions of the lake will again become unsafe for water contact recreation. Therefore, a continuing evaluation is needed."

The recent tests show, Hansen said, counts of coliform bacteria ranging from less than two in the ski jump region to 22,100 in the Tierra Blanca Creek, the lake's only source of water.

Hansen said, however, that the creek was "barely running" and should for the present bring no additional water into the lake.

Highest coliform bacteria count in the "open" portion of the lake was tested at 22, Hansen explained.

A count of 200 fecel coliform bacteria to 100 milliliters of water is considered unsafe, Hansen continued. The US Health Department considers a total of 1,000 counts of soil-formed coliform bacteria per 100 milliliters of water as contaminated. A milliliter is a measurement of water.

The bacteria now in the lake comes from the feces of warm-blooded animals, tests show.

Hansen said there was no chance that the polluted one-third of the water would contaminate the remaining portion which was opened Monday.

Thousands of fish have died due to contamination of Buffalo Lake waters.

The fecel bacteria can be traced in the form of ammonia nitrogen, Hansen said. A recent test indicated from 15 to 21 parts per million of ammonia nitrogen from water coming from the creek to the lake area.

"Three parts of ammonia nitrogen is considered toxic enough to kill fish," Hansen declared.

Although water contact sports will be allowed only in the open two-thirds of the lake, fishing in the polluted upper end will be permitted, Hansen said.

PARKINSON'S DISEASE IS NOT HEREDITARY

About one out of every one hundred people is affected by Parkinsonism. Because the chief cause is believed to be a decrease in the blood supply to the brain, a result of hardening of the arteries, their numbers will increase as people learn how to live longer.

Early symptoms are a tremor of one hand. Hand and foot movements slow up. Writing is more difficult. The mind is not affected. We have several different relaxant drugs which require a prescription. Early diagnosis and treatment is often effective in preventing more serious symptoms. But a physician must be consulted soon and regularly.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound and dispense yours?

WAYNE WIRT, left, of Wayne Wirt Electric in Canyon discusses features of a new circular outdoor unit for use in central cooling of homes with Burt Faigan of Air Distributors, Inc. of Albuquerque, New Mexico. Wirt was among about 90 climate control specialists from the southwest area at a recent meeting in Ruidoso, New Mexico.

WT Music Camp Underway

Thirty four students from Canyon are among more than 650 junior and senior high school musicians attending a two-week West Texas Music Camp here.

The camp, that began Sunday on the West Texas State University campus, will offer various types of instruction to the students.

"We will produce another hugh marching band, probably 350 students, to participate in the parade for the Randall County Round-Up and Old Settlers' Reunion," said Dr. John E. Green, WTSU music department head and camp director.

Two weeks of instruction in instruments, band rehearsals, private lessons, and classes will be climaxed July 28 with a grand finale concert by all the camp's bands, choir and twirlers.

The programs will begin about 2 p.m., Dr. Green said, and should conclude by 8 p.m.

A public concert will also be presented by some of the camp groups on Friday, he said.

A number of string students have enrolled for the first time for the camp. They will be instructed by Dr. Donald Todd, recently named associate professor of music at WTSU.

Don Marcouiller, director of bands at Duke University, will be featured as clinician for a marching band clinic, scheduled two days, July 22-23, during the camp.

A band director's workshop is also scheduled during the camp and directors may earn graduate credit for a course entitled "Band Technics" to be taught by Dr. Gary Garner, director of the WTSU bands.

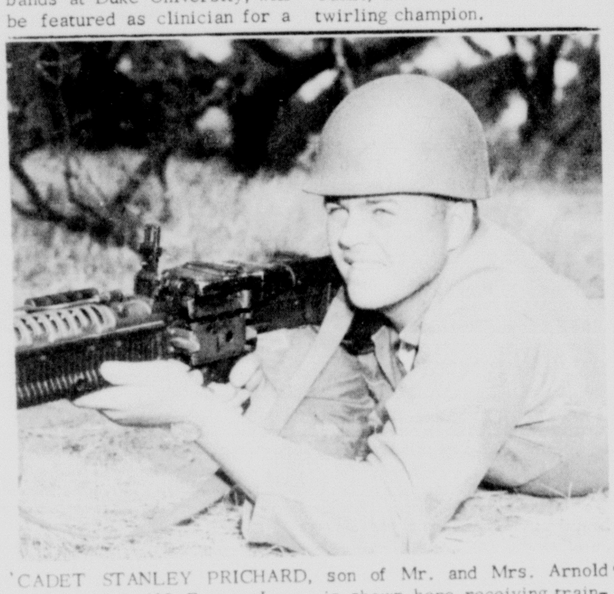
Instructor for twirling and drum majoring will be Beverly Johnson of Long Beach, Calif., the 1961 senior national twirling champion.

Youth Chior Sings Here For Church

A concert of sacred anthems, hymns and spirituals will be presented tonight, Thursday, at the First Baptist Church of Canyon.

The concert, which begins at 7:30 o'clock, will feature the Youth Choir of the First Baptist Church of Garland. The choir is directed by Harrell Slack, minister of music of the Garland church.

Slack is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Burney Slack of Canyon.



CADET STANLEY PRICHARD, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Prichard of 412 Foster Lane, is shown here receiving training on an M-60 machine gun while attending army Reserve Officers Training Corps summer camp at Ft. Sill, Okla. He is a student at West Texas State University. Cadet Prichard is a 1964 graduate of Canyon High School.
